Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 14 October 2005.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2 and 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kallas et al. US 6,778,653.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

- 2.1 Regarding claim 1, Kallas discloses a telephone communications system in figure 1, comprising:

a gateway 30 (Content/Service Provision Node, or C/SPN) having a first interface with a network 21 (call control messaging network) which control telephone calls of telephone 34 and 33 in conjunction with a call server 24 (column 4, lines 26-60), and a second interface with an IP network 12 (Content/Service messaging network, or C/SMN) through which content/service messages (data packets) are conveyed (column 3, lines 19-45; column 6, lines 24-33); and a media gateway 32 (Subscriber Access Control Equipment, or SACE) that can access a bear channel of a subscriber line of telephone 34, to deliver at least one of content or a service directly to the telephone 34 (column 4, lines 26-34), wherein the delivery of the least one of content and a service is effected by the gateway 30 and the media gateway 32 (delivery is effected because both gateways are in a communication path for telephones 34) in response to a call control signal received by the gateway 30 at the first interface (column 6, lines 40-44).

2.2 Regarding claim 2, Kallas teaches that the gateway 30 accesses network 12, which is an Internet (column 3, lines 5-6).

2.3 Regarding claim 6, Kallas teaches a SIP protocol used by the call server 24 and the networks (column 5, lines 16-48).

2.4 Regarding claim 7, Kallas teaches that the network 12 is connected to a PSTN which inherently comprising a common channel signaling network (column 3, lines 4-5, 8-13).

Art Unit: 2645

2.5 Regarding claim 8, Kallas teaches that the network 12 is an Internet (column 3, lines 5-6).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-5 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Claims 10-32, 37, 39 and 40 are allowed.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

5.1 Claim 3, the current invention claimed call servers for relaying messages between C/SPNs and SACEs, using same protocol as used for the content/service messages. Kallas fails to teach call server are used to relay messages.

5.2 Claims 4, 5 and 9 are dependents of claim 3, and therefore, are allowed

5.3 Claims 10, 18, 19 and 28, the current invention discloses a method for using a SIP or similar protocol to deliver content or service of a content/service message to a bearer channel of a subscriber line (connected to SSP 14 in figures 3 and 4) by a subscriber access equipment SACE 28 (connected to a SSP 14 in figures 3 and 4) to direct access the bearer channel. Young (US 6,765,912) fails to teach direct access to a bearer channel of a subscriber line.

5.4 Claims 10-17, 20-27 and 29-32 are dependents of claims 10, 19 and 28 respectively and therefore are allowed.

5.5 Claim 37, the current invention discloses a Content/Service Provision Node (C/SPN) for processing call control messages and content/service messages. The C/SPN maintains a status of instructions and executes a sequence of the instructions to provide a content or service to a telephone subscriber. Both Kallas and Young fail to teach this claimed limitation.

5.6 Claims 39 and 40 are dependents of claim 37 and therefore allowed

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
